BAD WORK OF FLAMES!

OCCUPANTS MAKE NARROW ESCAPES

Thomas, West Va., a Mining Town, Practically Swept Off the Map by a Conflagration—A Maryland Town Suffers Heavy Loss.

NO FIRE COMPANY IN EITHER TOWN

CLEVELAND, November 13.—A fire that started in the shoe store of N. O. Stone & Co., 46 and 48 Euclid avenue, late yesterday afternoon, caused a loss of $75,000 to that firm. Insurance about $60,000.

The jewelry store of Arnstein Bros & Mier, on the second story of the Stone block lost $40,000; insurance not stated. The upper stories were occupied by physicians, photographers and other tenants. A corset factory owned by Mrs. Graham, employing about twenty girls, was on the fifth floor.

When the fire broke out all the girls made a rush for the fire escapes and ladders. The flames spread so rapidly, however, that they could not use the fire escapes and a number of the girls were rescued by firemen on ladderr, while three of the women, including Mrs. Graham, jumped from the fifth floor into a net held by the firemen below. They escaped without injury.

Dr. Dowd, dentist, and Chestnutt Bros., photographers, were other tenants, and their loss is total, the entire building being a mass of wreckage.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Nov. 13.—The mining town of Thomas, W. Va., on the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg railway, was almost wiped out by fire, which started at 2 o'clock yesterday morning under Gerberger's hotel.

The town was without fire protection and the frame houses fell easy prey to the flames. Twenty business houses and seventy dwellings were consumed. The Catholic church, opera house, Gerberger and Reynolds hotels, the jail, the water station and several houses belonging to the Davis Coal and Coke company were destroyed.

The town was promoted mainly by the Davis Coal and Coke company and the West Virginia Central railroad. The latter has given the residents all the box cars at Thomas to shelter the homeless. The east end of the town was destroyed, including the four principal business blocks. Many traveling men lost their samples and money, and scores of people were driven from home in their night clothes.

BERLIN, Md., November 13.—Fire which broke out early yesterday morning destroyed two banks, a church, two livery stables, a store and a dwelling, entailing a loss of about $25,000.

The town is without a fire apparatus and the citizens worked heroically to prevent the spread of the flames, but the stiff breeze fanned the fire and it was several hours before the flames were under control. Among the structures destroyed was the Commercial Savings bank.

ODESSA, Nov. 13.—The Mandelevitch buildings, one of the finest blocks in Odessa, which include a fashionable arcade of shops, has been destroyed by fire. Ten persons perished and 35 others were injured. The damage is estimated at 1,000,000 roubles.

Dropped a Buck With Bird Shot.

Arthur M. Beamphin, a civil engineer on the railroad work above Lock Haven, was hunting pheasants between Richie and Hyner Saturday, when he killed a young buck. The young man was not looking for deer, and only had No. 5 bird shot in his gun, but when the buck came in sight, the nimrod up with his gun, just for fun, and was surprised to see the deer, which was 150 feet away, drop. He hurried to the animal and found that one of the small shot had gone through the heart.

Two More Companies Chartered.

The Clinton Water company, Pine Creek, and the Tiaadagton Water company, Pine Creek township, received charters at the state department Sunday. The former is capitalized at $4,000 and the latter at $1,000. Both have been organized to supply Oak Grove with water. The Chatbame Run Water company has also been chartered.

CENTRE COUNTY TEACHERS.

The Annual Institute to be Held During Week of December 9.

The fifty-fifth annual session of the Centre County Teachers Institute will be held in the Court house here December 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13, 1901.

County Superintendent C. L. Gramley is working hard to make the 1901 session the best and most profitable ever held in the county. The program this year will be rich and unvaried. The talent both local and from a distance is the best that can be obtained.

Among the instructors from a distance secured are Hon. O. T. Corson, Ex-State Commissioner of Education in Ohio and Editor of the "Ohio Educational Monthly;" Dr. S. D. Fess, Professor in the Ohio Normal University, and Dr. Warren Darst, on Board of Control of "Ohio Teachers' Reading Circle."

Miss Elizabeth M. Crouch, of Philipsburg, will preside at the piano this year and Prof. Philip H. Meyer, of Boalsburg, has been selected as musical director.

The evening entertainments, which have become a feature of the Institute, will far surpass any previous year. The teachers and the general public have a rare treat in store for them with such a list as the following to chose from: Tuesday evening—Dr. Warren Darst, Ada, Ohio, will lecture on "I, the Heir of all the Ages." Wednesday evening—The Rogers—Grilley Recitals, a charming and unique entertainment. Thursday evening—Gov. Bob Taylor will lecture on the subject "The Old Plantation." He will be assisted by a Superb Male Quartette.

Thursday December 12 the Sixteenth Annual Session of the Centre County Directors Association will be held. A very interesting program has been arranged for both morning and afternoon and it will be a banner day.

The officers of the Institute are President, C. L. Gramley; Vice President, I. H. Mauser, Recording Secretary, J. B. Strohm; Ass't Secretary, Mame Bell; Enrolling Secretary, T. A. Auman, Doorkeepers, J. N. Moyer and A. J. Tate, Ticket Agent, J. C. Morris.

Speeding Train Afire.

Passengers on the north bound express on the New York Central railroad were given a scare Monday by the women's coach catching fire and burning for nearly ten miles. The flames were first noticed near Ansonia in the top of the car near the transom. An effort was made to extinguish it with a pail of water, but failed. It was decided that the only thing to do was to make a quick run to Leech's water tank, over nine miles distant, and there turn a hose on the blaze. The run was made in the quickest possible time and the fire extinguished.

—Congress, at its ensuing session, will be strongly appealed to in behalf of the disabled railway mail clerks and the families of those who have lost their lives in the performance of their official duties. The people generally have little knowledge of the number of railway mail clerks who lose their lives or are crippled in accidents that occur. Last year there were 825 such accidents, resulting in seven clerks being killed and 292 seriously crippled. The proposition is to provide a pension system of some kind for the benefit of these unfortunate public servants.

Dead in the Bushes.

Sunday morning the dead body of Patrick Johnson was found in the bushes near Farrandsville, Clinton county. Johnson was drinking the night before and is believed to have wandered into the bushes and laid down in a drunken stupor, death resulting from exposure. The dead man was 70 years old and was born in Ireland.

How His Foot Was Wounded.

Henry Huff, of Keating, is suffering from a wounded foot. A short time ago he narrowly escaped a severe wound by carelessly handling his gun. A few days later in showing his neighbors how the act was done, the hammer of the gun fell and the man was shot through the foot near the toe. One of the toes was amputated.

—Miss Margaret McFadden, a highly esteemed and lifelong resident of Martinsburg, was killed at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon by falling down the cellar steps at her home in that village. She was aged 86 years and was a sister of the late Samuel and Archibald McFadden, of Hollidaysburg.

Over 4,000 Cars in One Day.

Last Wednesday 4,607 cars passed over the Pennsylvania division of the N. Y. C., and Friday proved a record breaker—4,715 cars were handled on this division. Sunday over 900 empties were hauled up the Beech Creek district.

NATION'S CROP REPORT

IT IS THE LOWEST ON RECORD

There Is an Increase in Buckwheat and of Potatoes the Smallest Yield in Ten Years—A Fairly Good Year for Hay.

APPLE CROP BELOW THE AVERAGE

WASHINGTON, November 12.—The following crop report was issued Monday afternoon by the department of agriculture:

The preliminary estimate of the average yield per acre of corn as published in the monthly report of the statistician of the department of agriculture is 16.4 bushels, as compared with an average yield of 25.3 bushels per acre in 1900 and 1899, and a ten year average of 24.4 bushels. The present indicated yield per acre is the lowest general average ever recorded for this crop, being 2.2 bushels per acre below the yield of 1881, which has stood for twenty years as the lowest on record. The indicated yield in bushels per acre in the seven principal states is as follows:

Ohio 26.1, Indiana 19.8, Illinois 21., Iowa 25, Missouri 10.1, Kansas 7.8 and Nebraska 14.1. Of the twenty-three states having 1,000,000 acres or upward in corn, all but Pennsylvania, Virginia and Michigan report an average yield per acre below their respective ten-year averages. The general average as to quality is 73.7 per cent., as compared with 85.5 per cent. in November last and 87.2 per per cent. in November, 1899. It is estimated that 4.5 per cent. of the corn crop of 1900 was still in the hands of farmers on November 1, 1901, as compared with 4.4 per cent. of the crop of 1899 in farmers' hands on November 1, 1900, and 5.9 per cent. of that of 1898 in hand November 1, 1899,

The preliminary estimate of the average yield per acre of buckwheat is 18.9 bushels, as against an average yield per acre of 15 bushels in 1900, and a ten-year average of 16.9 bushels. Of the six states having 10,000 acres or upward under this product, including New York and Pennsylvania, which together contain over three-fourths of the entire buckwheat acreage of the country, four report a yield per acre in excess of their respective ten-year averages. The general average as to quality is 93.3 per cent., against 90.2 per cent. in November last and 86.4 per cent. in November, 1899.

The preliminary estimate of the yield per acre of potatoes is 59.9 bushels, against an average yield per acre of 80.8 bushels in 1900, 88.6 bushels in 1899 and a ten-year average of 78.7 bushels. The present indicated yield per acre is the lowest since 1890. Of the states having 50,000 acres or upward in potatoes all except Michigan and Maine report a yield per acre comparing unfavorably with their ten-year averages. Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska report less than one-half, and Missouri less than one-fourth of an average crop. The average as to quality is 78.4 per cent. as compared with 88.1 in November last, and 91.4 in November, 1899.

The preliminary estimate of the average yield per acre of hay is 1.32 tons against an average yield of 1.28 tons in 1901, 1.35 tons in 1899 and a ten year average of 1.28 tons. While more than three-fourths of the forty-seven states and territories for which comparative data are available, report a yield per acre in excess of their respective ten year averages, such important states as Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Texas and Arkansas, are all included in the region reporting less favorably. The average as to quality is 91.3 per cent against 89.7 per cent, in November last and 93. 8 per cent, in November, 1899.

Of the fifteen principal tobacco states nine, including Kentucky, Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee, report an average yield per cent of tobacco in excess of their ten year averages, while six, including Ohio, Wisconsin and Missouri, fall below such agerage.

The apple crop is considerably below the ten year average, the pear and grape crops are slightly below, and the sweet potato crop is slightly above.

—Ex-Superintendent A. G. Palmer and Hon. James Kerr will shortly let contracts for the erection of 40 houses at Jersey Shore. Each gentleman will build 20 and they will be most desirable tenant houses.

One Night.

The following lines were written after reading of Mrs. McKinley's request, expressed to the Cabinet, that her husband's body should be allowed to rest for one night in the house which had been their home through all their wedded life, at Canton, Ohio.

One night I ask for, only one,
Before you lay him in his grave;
His struggle o'er, his victory won,
My husband, William, pure and brave,
For one night in our home must rest,
To make that home forever blest.

He was its sweet and holy light,
Whose gentle power hath borne me on
Through all my suffering's darkest night;
On me one cherished hope hath shone,
That I might haply pass before,
To wait for him on heaven's fair shore.

My hope is foiled; his Lord hath sent
To bear him hence, and left me lone;
My poor sad soul; with sorrow rent,
Sees him raised to a Martyr's throne;
But though thus glorified he be,
He's still my husband, dear to me.

He's now the world's in fame, yet mine
By many a tenderer, holier tie;
Our ripened love, so near divine,
So true, so sweet, can never die.
Ye nation's rulers, let him come
Where long we loved in our dear home

His holy sleep shall consecrate
That blessed home forevermore;
Though throned and crowned among the great,
He's still my William gone before;
Then for one night, Oh, let him come
To bless anew his own loved home.

An Odd Accident.

NEWBERRY, Nov 12.—A singular accident occurred at the bridge where the Fall Brook tracks runs over the P. and E. road west of Newberry Junction Sunday afternoon. A train load of dirt had been taken down from Oak Grove to the double tracks at that point. The cable, to which the shovel which unloads the dirt was attached, dropped through the bridge and formed a loop.

An engine pulling a P. and E. freight on the track below ran into the loop and the smoke stack of the locomotive was jerked off.

No one was injured. The engine pulled the train to Nisbet where it was substituted by another one.

Funeral at Tylersville.

Mrs. Clayton Webber, of Ridgway, whose death occurred at Tylersville on Friday, had been a sufferer from sciatic rheumatism for nine months. She was the adopted daughter of Thomas Greninger, of Tylersville, and three weeks ago was taken to his home with the hope that the change might be beneficial. She is survived by her husband and six children.

The funeral was held at Tylersville on Sunday, conducted by Rev. Harman, of Rebersburg. The pall bearers were H. C. Stover, N. I. Bierly, Henry Caris, Emery Grieb, W. N. Coney and Norman Stover.

Struck on the Temple.

Thomas McLaughlin conductor of the Williamsport work train, was hurt at Hyner Sunday afternoon in attempting to throw a switch. The lever slipped and struck him on the right temple, throwing him down on the rail and cutting gashes two inches long on the back of his head. Both cuts were down to the skull. He was taken to Renovo on an engine. Dr. Corson restored the injured man to consciousness and dressed his wounds. Mr. McLaughlin was sent home on the evening train feeling pretty good. There is nothing dangerous in his condition, but he will likely lay off a week or two.

Aged Renovo Woman Drowned.

Renovo, Nov 12—Monday morning about 4 o,clock John Hayes and Michael Rooney saw Mrs. Mary Wood, an aged lady of this place, in the river at Drury's Run, about fifty feet from the shore. She had taken her shoes and stockings off and had a heavy shawl wrapped around her. The men carried her to a neighboring house, where she was resuscitated. She did not give any reason for her attempt at suicide. She had been seen last evening walking along the river at Renovo, and it is believed that she was out all night.

The Pennsylvania Dairy Union.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Dairy Union will be held in York December 4 and 5, 1901. Efforts have been made, and with a great deal of success, to secure the cream of speakers for this meeting with the belief that Pennsylvania dairymen would be satisfied with none but those who are not only entertaining but who have been eminently successful in their various specialties.

THEY TURNED THE TABLES

Fugitive Convicts Capture a Sheriff and One of His Deputies.

AFTERWARD MADE THEIR ESCAPE

Placed the Head Law Officer and a Woman in Front of Them and Then Marched for Liberty Past a Squad of Police,

THEY ARE ARMED AND DESPERATE

TOPEKA, Kas., November 11.—Sheriff Coke and Deputy Sheriff Williams, of this county, were captured by two escaped convicts from the Fort Leavenworth military prison Sunday afternoon at Pauline, five miles south of Topeka, and held prisoners in the farm house of a man named Wooster for several hours. The convicts finally escaped between a line of police sent from Topeka to reinforce the sheriff, and are now at large. Both were slightly wounded. Wooster was badly wounded by one of the convicts when he tried to fire on them. Mrs. Wooster and Sheriff Cook were held before the convicts as a shield by the prisoners in making their escape. A posse was in pursuit last night.

At 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon some farmer boys near Pauline learned that the convicts were in the neighborhood, hastily forming a posse armed with target rifles, pistols and clubs they gave chase. Neither of the convicts were armed and they were unable to make a stand. Later Sheriff Cook and Deputy Williams arrived. Coming upon the convicts both officers fired, wounding the men but not disabling them.

The convicts then fled through a small opening in the timber and ran into the house of Farmer Wooster. Sheriff Cook telephoned to Topeka for assistance and then took up the chase. Thinking the convicts had run around the house, Cook darted through the open door, intending to surprise them at the rear door. But instead of this the convicts had gone into the house and the officer almost fell into their arms. Sheriff Cook was ordered to give up his gun, which he did. Deputy Williams by this time had reached the house and entered without knowing what had happened inside, and he, too, was made captive by the convicts.

In the meantime, Chief of Police Stahl, of Topeka, and three officers were on their way. They arrived at the Wooster house about an hour after the officers had been imprisoned. Chief Stahl immediately began negotiations with the convicts to give up their prisoners and surrender themselves, but the convicts only laughed. Farmer Wooster then negotiated to get a gun and was about to make an attack on the convicts when one of them laid him low with the butt end of a revolver taken from one of their captives. The convict broke Wooster's right hand and made an ugly gash in his head. One of the convicts told Sheriff Cook that he would be killed if he made the slightest move looking toward their capture.

In the meantime the police officers on the outside had surrounded the building, but was afraid to make a move for fear that Cook and Williams would suffer.

Mrs. Wooster had fainted during the excitement. She revived and at 6 o'clock the convicts placed the woman and Sheriff Cook in front of them as shields and made for the door.

Then after exacting a promise from the sheriff that he would not permit the officers on the outside to fire on them, they started for the open. As they left the house the frightened farmer, his wife, and the submissive sheriff before them, the convicts passed between a cordon of police who easily could have captured them and started for the railroad track. The sheriff in turn had exacted a promise from the police that they would not molest the convicts and they did not.

After covering a considerable distance down the track, the convicts suddenly disappeared through a hedge fence bidding the officers a mocking farewell.

Elks Memorial Services.

The Elk lodges of Sunbury, Renovo and Lock Haven will join the Williamsport lodge this year in holding services in memory of their departed brothers. The service, which is an annual occurrence, will be held in the Lycoming opera house, Williamsport, on Sunday afternoon, December 1st. W. Harrison Walker, Esq., of Bellefonte, a member of Lock Haven lodge, will deliver an oration, and Miss Sara Peck, of Lock Haven, has been invited to sing a solo. The services promise to be of a highly impressive nature. Renovo and Lock Haven lodges will journey to Williamsport in a special train.

Pumpkins.

From the New York Sun.

What are folks going to eat? Potatoes have entered into a combination to limit the supply and put up prices. Apples, ashamed of themselves as the raw material of cider, have respected the scruples of the Drys and cut their own crop. Sad news comes from up this state that pumpkins are few and not especially fit. What is the world coming to? Potatoes are a luxury; apples are a dissipation; pumpkins are a necessity of life. Take out of American literature and history the thoughts that have been thought and the deeds that have been done under the inspiration of pumpkin pie and what is left? Without it, what is man and where is Thanksgiving Day?

It is true, and sad, that bungling or degenerate pie-makers make and vend squash pie and call it pumpkin—so dishonoring a great name and deceiving a foolish public, but the soul of the strong is not to be bamboozled by this wicked substitution. Pumpkin, the ornament of the rural landscape in the fall; pumpkin pie, the ornament of the happy home in winter, the mellow-named, mellow-savored, mellow-flavored angel of the insides! It can have no successor, no parallel, no proxy. Nobody can be "some punkins" who doesn't stroke his brains with pumpkin pie.

Why in blazes aren't there more pumpkins? Is the lack of pumpkins attributable to imperialism, to trusts, to the gold standard or to the absence of the initiative and referendum?

Church Mortgage Paid.

Through the efforts of Rev. George Stanley West, pastor of the Baptist church in Blanchard, a mortgage against the church amounting to $300 has been paid off and the legal papers burned in the presence of the congregation at a recent meeting. Rev. West has done much good for his church and the community during the short time he has been in Blanchard.

Great Demand For Their Iron.

The Bellefonte Furnace Co,, is making better iron now than has ever been made at that furnace. They are making on an average of 140 tons of iron in 24 hours, and the demand for it is greater than they can accommodate. Under the skilful management of Mr. William Kelley this furnace has been put in good running condition and is now classed among the best Iron Furnaces in the State.

Found in the Creek.

Leonard Wolf, aged 21, of Waterville was found in the bed of Cedar Run, under a bridge Friday, with his leg crushed. He had left for Cedar Run, and it is supposed that while walking on the Fall Brook tracks was knocked into the creek by a freight train. He was taken to the Williamsport hospital, where the leg was amputated.

Didn't Like the Cars.

Mrs. Mary Hinds, who died in Lycoming township, near Williamsport, a few days ago at the age of 84 years, had never ridden on a steam railway or an electric car. Her friends had endeavored to influence her to take a ride but she was so afraid of the cars that she refused.

Transferred the Titles.

James Thomas, of Williamsport, who purchased the J. Harris McKinney and George C. Shaw farms several months ago for the N. Y. C. shops at Oak Grove, has transferred the titles to George S. Prince, the treasurer of the company at New York. The purchase price was $77,830.

Defalcation Amounts to $57,000.

Charles D. Thompson, supreme finance keeper of the Supreme tent of the Maccabees, has confessed to being a defaulter in the sum of $57,000 Mr. Thompson is heavily bonded, which will protect the order from loss.

—A Nittany Valley hunter while out after squirrels recently brought down 12 squirrels with 12 shells.

—The United Bretheran congregation of Huntingdon have commenced work on the foundation of their new church.

—Governor Stone Thursday fixed January 16 for the execution of Watson M. Keiper and Henry Rows, the youthful bank robbers and murderers of Cashier Charles W. Ryan, of the Halifax National bank, Halifax, near Harrisburg.

—Howard Zeigler, of near Linden Hall, was hauling in a four-horse load of cornfodder from the fields Monday morning when the horses became frightened and ran away. Zeigler was thrown off and the team passed over him inflicting serious injuries. He is now lying in a critical condition with little hope of recovery.

Additional Locals.

—D. W. James, of Beech Creek, killed two wild cats recently.

—The Rev. C. Pierre Wagner, of Philadelphia, has accepted a call to the First Baptist church of Lock Haven.

—The Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers, started in 1852, now has 580 subdivisions, with a membership of over 37,000.

—In the vicinity of Karthaus about 200 men are now at work putting the ballast on the railroad tracks between Karthaus and Keating.

—Mrs. Mary Ann Johnson very pleasantly entertained a party of seventy-five ladies at her home on West Linn street Thursday evening.

—To-day take Foley's Honey and Tar. It positively prevents pneumonia, or other serious results from colds. It may be to late to-morrow. All Druggists

—Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, of Willowbank street, announce the engagement of their daughter Miss Jennie Taylor to Mr. Martin Overley of Pittsburg.

—Miss Winifred Gates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Gates, of East Lamb street, is rapidly recovering from the attack of scarlet fever.

—W. J. Shively, Batesville, O., speaking of Banner Salve, says; "I used it for piles, and it has done me more good than any salve I have ever used, and I have tried a great many kinds." All Druggists.

—Many Centre county farmers are compelled to haul water for their cattle, as well as domestic use. The continued drouth has caused cisterns, wells and many springs to go dry.

—Hard P. Harris while out hunting Wednesday afternoon shot a wild turkey that weighed 19 lbs. The bird is a beauty and is perhaps the finest specimen bagged by any local Nimrod this season, so far.

—Geo. A. Points, Upper Sandusky. O. writes. "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for hoarseness and find it the best remedy I ever tried. It stopped the cough immediately and relieved all soreness." Take none but Foley's. All Druggists.

—The Salvation Army, of DuBois, reports 100 conversions during the past year, which leads the Clearfield Raftsman's Journal to ask, "How many organized churches can report more than that?"

—Miss Nellie Herr, an employe of the Lock Haven steam laundry, while at her work Thursday morning had her hand drawn into the rolls and two of her fingers were badly squeezed. The injury, while not severe, is very painful.

—Thomas J. Clabaugh fell down the cellar steps at his home in Altoona on the evening of October 30 and died Thursday evening from the effects of injuries received by the fall. He was aged three months more than 71 years.

—Beginning with December a free rural mail service will be inaugurated in the country surrounding Lewistown. The route is twenty-four miles, in length, covers eight square miles, has two hundred and ten houses and represents a population of nine hundred and forty-five —Shannon Boal, of Centre Hall, of whose loss of sight we made mention a few weeks ago, Wednesday morning while endeavoring to go down stairs, from the second floor, missed the banisters, which threw him down the stairway, causing several bad bruises about his head and other parts of his body.

—William Hull went hunting in the neighborhood of Maringo, Centre county, Tuesday. He came home with a wild turkey and a brown Leghorn chicken. The chicken was in the woods near the home of the young man's grandmother, and thinking it was a pheasant he turned his sure aim upon the domestic bird.

—Adolph Bluner, Grand Mound, Ia., writes: "I have used Folov's Honey and Tar in my family and think it is the best cough cure on the market. I would not be without it in my home, as there is nothing so good for coughs and colds. All Druggists.

—Mrs. Joseph Groseman, of near Tusseyville, was unfortunate in being on the top of a load of corn fodder which slid off the wagon. The lady was thrown with such force that on striking the ground she sustained a fracture of the outer bone of the left arm, and was otherwise bruised. Dr. Lee reduced the fracture, and reports the patient as doing well.

—The Centre County Pomona Grange will meet in Grange Arcadia, Centre Hall, Friday, November 22. Two sessions—forenoon and afternoon. An election of officers will be held in the afternoon, and other matters of interest will be brought before the meeting. It is desired that there be a good attendance by all patrons, both fourth and fifth degree members. The fifth degree will be conferred in the afternoon. GEORGE DALE, Master. D. M. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

—Seymour Webb, Moira, N, Y., writes: "I have been troubled with my kidneys for twenty-five years and had tried several physicians but received no relief until I bought a bottle of Foley's Kidney Cure. After using two bottles I was absolutely cured. I earnestly recommend Foley's Kidney Cure. Take only Foley's. All Druggists.

HUNTING NOTES

The Seven Mountains Full of Hunters.—Deer are Without Rest.

The Seven Mountains are chuck full of hunters, camping parties and others who are there for a day only. There is little chance for the nimble deer, for once chased up it is in constant danger of its life from a most improved weapon in the hands of an experienced hunter or the novice, who if he can wave back the sudden attack of "buck fever," usually has a steady hand.

So far information at hand indicates that the hunters are very successful this season, and the following good showing is made:

Bradford party killed three, and the killing was done by Messrs. Frank Bradford, J. F. Smith and —— Kerstetter.

Georges Valley party, one deer and one bear. The former was killed by George Breon, Spring Mills, and D. W. Sweetwood, Jr., killed the bear.

The R. A. M's, of Potters Mills, have not been heard from.

A Good Joke on Supt. C. L. Gramley.

A good story is being told down about Woodward that is decidedly characteristic of how a lad may sometimes unwittingly turn a neat joke.

County superintendent of instruction Gramley was on his usual visitation among the schools in the mountains in that end of the county but happened to be unexpected at the particular one he dropped in on that morning. The children were at work as usual when Supt. Gramley appeared and he started at once to investigate their progress. Addressing a little boy, clad in blue apron overalls, he said: "Well, my little man, what do you know about diamonds?" The lad looked bewildered for a moment and made no reply, whereupon the Superintendent, addressing him again, said: "Do they grow on trees?" At this there was just the faintest trace of cunning discernible in the youngster's countenance and looking his interrogator square in the face, he replied: "Well, dey ton't in dis walley but maybe dey might over in Brush walley."

As the Superintendent is from Brush valley the point of the story will be correspondingly appreciated.

Heart-Sick People.

Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is a heart tonic that never fails to cure—is swift in its effects—goes closer to the "border land" and snatches from death's grip more sufferers than any other remedy for any family of diseases and ailments in the category of human sufferings. Gives relief in 30 minutes.—38

Unmanly Sportsmen.

A Spring Mills correspondent relates that there are hunters in that vicinity who are violating the law by building turkey pens, one of which is built above H. M. Cane's field and the other above Henry Duck's premises. Corn is scattered in all directions from these points with a hope of leading the game to those particular places where the sportsmen are in hiding. A Day of Thanksgiving Named by Gov. Stone.

HARRISBURG, November 7.—Governor Stone issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation to-day:

"In conformity with a custom long prevailing, and following the proclamation of the President of the United States, who has set apart a day of praise and Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the manifold blessings with which the past year has been crowned. I, William A. Stone, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby name Thursday November 28, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

"The first Thanksgiving of the new century brings with it abundant reasons for gratitude to the giver of all good, notwithstanding the fact that the nation rests under a dark cloud of bereavement. We deplore the death of that great and good man, William McKinley. His cruel assassination has shocked the people of this country. It is earnestly hoped that wise laws will be passed that will prevent similar calamities.

"While we mourn the loss which has fallen upon us, we have countless reasons for rendering sincere thanks. Our fields have been crowned with abundant harvests. We have been blessed with great prosperity. We have been free from pestilence. There has been peace within our borders.

"For the tranquility and plenty with which we have been blessed, I hereby call upon the people of the Commonwealth to cease their ordinary avocations and to assemble in their respective places of worship on the day named, there to render devout thanks to Almighty God for His unspeakable goodness and to supplicate a continuation of His favor.

"Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at the city of Harrisburg, this seventh day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred and twenty-sixth.

"WILLIAM A. STONE.

"By the Governor:
"W. W. GRIEST,
"Secretary of the Commonwealth."

A Former Philipsburger's Death in California.

Capt. David F. Copelin has received the sad intelligence of the death of one of his younger brothers, Captain Charles Copelin, which occurred in Pasadena, California, where he had been in charge of the city farm, says the Philipsburg Journal.

The deceased was well known in Philipsburg, having at one time been engaged in the furniture and undertaking business in this place. He was born at Lewistown, Pa., April 20, 1835, and was consequently aged a little more than 66 years.

He was a brave soldier in the war of the rebellion. He enlisted in 1861 as a private and was mustered out as a captain. He was wounded at Deep Bottom, Fredericksburg and Gettysburg. But from all three he rallied and lived, although his wounds at Gettysburg came very near proving fatal. His faithful wife, however, went to the battlefield and patiently nursed him back to life and she has been his helper and comforter all these years until now she mourns her companion of a long wedded life. In Pasadena, where the deceased has been residing for a number of years, he was held in the very highest esteem and at the funeral last Thursday many tributes were accorded him.

How He Chose A Flower.

A story which explains the liking of the late President for red carnations is told by Miss Lucy Treadwell. Eight years, ago when she was a student at the Painsville, O., college, Mr. McKinley visited there. A bevy of girls made him an honorary member of their class and pinned a bright red carnation on the lapel of his coat, the flower being the class color. Mr. McKinley, in thanking the girls, said he would thenceforth make the flower his own. Every year the class sent a box of red carnations to him. The incident occurred on the evening of November 19, 1893, while Mr. McKinley was governor of Ohio.

HARMFUL BATHING.

Too Much Soap and Water Is Not Good For the Skin.

It is a familiar boast of English people that we are above all others a washing nation. Soap and water is a standing dish in Great Britain, but so little were we disposed to credit the habitual cleanliness of foreigners that a piece of soap in the valise was till recently the habitual companion of an Englishman on his travels. All kinds of theories have been raised to account for this national tendency to ablution, and most diverse qualities have been attributed to its possession.

The familiarity of islanders with water and the use of it occasioned by the national custom that led the ancient Britons to paint their bodies are solemnly urged as the foundation of the English proneness to washing, and the fresh complexions and smooth skins of young Englishmen are held to replace the more dusky and hirsute countenances of the Latin races because of their closer and more frequent acquaintance with the articles of the washstand.

It is quite obvious that even in England there are people who wash too little. It is not so generally recognized that some people wash too much. The skin is not well adapted to frequent applications of water accompanied by even the least irritating of soaps. A tendency arises to maceration of the superficial part of the epidermis, which is too frequently removed and occasions probably too rapid a proliferation of the cells of the Malpighian layer.

There is no doubt that many cases of roughness of the skin of the face come from the frequent applications of water. It is a good thing to rub the face with a soft, clean, dry towel two or three times a day. If, in addition, water is used in the morning and at night, the skin will be kept in a sounder, smoother and healthier state than if, as is often the case, soap and water are used three or four times a day.

Men are not often offenders in this respect, most men sparing little time for the refinements of the toilet. Women and children, whose skins are the most easily affected by superfluous ablution, are the very persons in whom such excess is too common. They should be taught that there are dry methods of cleanliness as well as wet ones.—Lancet.

PADEREWSKI GOT $20.

But It Cost Him That to Get His Clothes Out of Pawn.

Paderewski's first really important engagement as a pianist was in Paris long after the death of his beloved wife. He was engaged to play in the drawing room of a lady famous for her musicales, and his fee, which seemed to him enormous, was $20. He managed to persuade the humane agent to pay him in advance, and when Paderewski had redeemed his dress suit from pawn and paid for shoes, gloves, tie and other essentials he had no money left for cab hire, so he was forced to walk to the scene of his engagement.

The music loving audience inspired him. He played with feeling, passion and mastery of his instrument as never before. His success was instant and unmistakable. The poor player had suddenly become the lion of the hour, his dream had become a reality, and fame and fortune were assured him.

At last, after disengaging himself from his admirers, he turned to leave, when his hostess, remembering with regret the smallness of the fee for so marvelous a performance, offered him her carriage for his return home. But Paderewski's pride came to the rescue. In his courteous yet reserved way he made a formal bow, and saying, "No, thank you, madame; my own is waiting," he stepped out for his long walk homeward.—Pearson's Weekly.

A Living Emetic.

A servant who did not find her way very promptly to the kitchen one morning was visited by her mistress, who found her in bed suffering from pain and violent sickness. She explained that she had a cold and had taken some medicine which had been recommended for the children.

"How much did you take?" asked her mistress.

"Well, mum, I went by the directions on the bottle. They said, 'Ten drops for an infant, thirty drops for an adult and a tablespoonful for an emetic.' I knew I wasn't an infant or adult, so I thought I must be an emetic, and the pesky stuff has pretty nigh turned me inside out."—Medical Brief.

The "Extra Horse."

A lover of horses recently noticed a custom in France which he thinks ought to be adopted in this country. On every street in France which has a steep grade there is stationed an "extra horse." The law compels draymen and others to make use of this horse until the summit of the hill is reached, and there is a heavy fine for refusing to hire the extra horse at a small fixed rate. Placards by the roadside indicate the point where the extra horse should be taken on and also where he may be dispensed with.

Evolution.

"I thought it was his money that made him."

"But, then, it was that machine he invented that made his money."

KICKER.

A Theory of His Rise and Progress.

The word "kicker" is no more slang, but an honorable term admitted by the lexicographer to the round table of English speech. This acceptance of the word proves that there was a real need for it; that a certain class of people had no word in the English language to fitly designate them. As a class these kickers must be as modern as the word which describes them. They are in effect a new product of our latest civilization. The word which describes the kicker is picturesque. It suggests the mule whose kicking is usually done out of pure wantonness; which kicks in season and out of season, at everything or at nothing as the case may be. The term kicker scarcely needs definition. We know exactly what it means, as well as we know the chronic fault-finder it designates.

THE RISE OF THE KICKER.

Any one who cares to trace the rise of the kicker will find that he keeps pace with the prevalent American disease, dyspepsia. All kickers may not be dyspeptics, but all dyspeptics are surely kickers. They are everlasting fault-finders. Nothing goes right for them in the family or in business. There is always a dead fly in their ointment. It is a miserable condition for the dyspeptic and his friends. He really can't help himself. His nerves are strained to the limit of endurance. His ears are like megaphones magnifying every little sound to the shock of thunder. His eyes lose sense of perspective and he sees mole-hills as mountains. He is suspicious, jealous, unreasonable and obstinate; and all these things are only symptoms of the disease which is starving and weakening the entire nervous system and reaching out toward heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and other organs.

WHAT CAN BE DONE FOR HIM?

What can be done for the victim of dyspepsia?

He can be cured. He can be given a new start in life. He can be made the amiable, companionable man he was of old. He can once more eat with appetite and enjoyment, work with energy, and sleep the night through in sound, dreamless slumber.

This is not a mere empty claim unsupported by facts. The statement that the dyspeptic can be cured is made on the authority of thousands of men and women, who have been entirely cured of dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It always helps. It almost always cures.

O. S. Copenhaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. (Box 222), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a slimy, yellow water. I consulted a physician and he told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. I still kept getting so weak I could scarcely walk. I then tried another physician and he told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better, but only for a short time. I then tried another one who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief while using. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before. I can truthfully say Dr. Pierce's medicines did me more good than any I had ever taken."

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores bodily strength by enabling the assimilation of food which is the source of all physical strength. It acts directly on the blood-making glands, increasing their activity and so increasing the supply of blood which is enriched and purified by the "Discovery."

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics and injurious drugs.

Do not accept any substitute for the "Discovery" though claimed to be "just as good." "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured when all other medicines have failed. There is nothing else "just as good."

What's the Use?

A writer in an exchange, though taking a somewhat pessimistic view of things, nevertheless hits the bull's eye when he says this is an age of hustle, bustle and sweat. A man hustles from early dawn until the katydids sing in the twilight, for three meals a day and a place in which to lie awake at night and worry about it. If he doesn't overwork he is called lazy and if he does overwork he grows crazy. He toils and saves through the days of his youth, so that when he grows old he can wear a silk hat and sit on the knee of luxury, but when his hair turns to snow and his whiskers grow thin and gray in life's late afternoon, he finds he has been victimized and grieviously buncoed by his own calculations, and that rheumatism and poor relations have shattered all his dreams and punctured his fondest hopes and desires. "What's the use?"

Some Historical Fridays.

Friday, which is regarded as a day of ill luck by the rest of the world, ought to be considered the luckiest of all days for Americans.

Among the historic events that occurred on Friday are the discovery of America, Oct. 12, 1492, by Christopher Columbus, who had sailed Friday, Aug. 12, 1492. He returned on Friday and made the discovery of South America on Friday, June 12, 1494.

John Cabot received his commission from Henry VIII on Friday, March 6, 1496, which resulted in the finding of North America. Mendez founded St. Augustine on Friday, Sept. 7, 1565. The Mayflower landed on Friday, Dec. 22, 1620.

George Washington was born on Friday, Feb. 22, 1732. On Friday, June 16, 1775, Bunker Hill was seized and fortified. On Friday, Oct. 17, 1777, Burgoyne surrendered at Saratoga, and on Friday, Sept. 22, 1780, Arnold's treason was discovered.

Then came the surrender of Cornwallis, also on Friday, and last, on Friday, July 7, 1776, John Adams moved in the Continental congress that the United States "are and ought to be independent."—London Express.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Lack of Transporting Facilities Continues to Block Business.

IRON INDUSTRY SUFFERS GREATLY

Inability to Secure Coke Causes the Banking of Some Furnaces—New England Textile Mills Are All Reported Busy.

THE MOVEMENT IN THE CEREALS

NEW YORK, November 9.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

Little relief has been afforded the leading manufacturing industry in the matter of transporting facilities. In fact the situation on the whole is less satisfactory since inability to secure coke has brought about the banking of some furnaces. This in turn tends to harden the market for pig iron, though no actual alteration in prices has occurred, except in Philadelphia, where 25 cents more a ton is readily paid. As this industry is considered the best business barometer, present conditions and future prospects are certainly most encouraging, for orders are abundant and plants enlarging capacity in order to handle the growing business. Material is purchased now for much structural work in the spring, and additional contracts are seeking acceptance. The various needs were never as pressing, every form of equipment being sought and it is possible that more orders will be placed abroad, but troubles and low [illegible] difficulty arising from car shortage, making more retarding influences affecting the out put of steel just when the export demand has become a factor of importance.

Textile mills in New England are busy and there is no longer any fear of labor controversy at Fall River. In woolens there is a free movement of women's dress goods and orders are plentiful in heavy weight lines for immediate delivery.

Weather conditions were the chief factors in determining price changes of staple products. Low temperature in grain growing states brought a high level of quotations, corn rising 23 cents above the figure ruling at the corresponding date last year, and 26 cents over 1899. These advance' of more than 50 per cent are far in excess of the ratio of loss in production and establishes a fictitious price level which curtailed Atlantic exports to 642,-142 bushels for the week and against 2,520,170 bushels last year. On the other hand wheat is moving out freely at both coasts, shipments from the United States for the week amounting to 5,651,-472 bushels against 3,210,164 bushels in the same week of 1900.

Vigorous milling and foreign demands caused a fair advance in price to about last year's figure, despite the difference in output.

Failures for the week numbered 243 in the United States against 201 last year and thirty-three in Canada against eighteen last year.

Dont's for Gunners.

Don't look down the barrel of your gun to see that it is loaded.

Don't be a pot hunter, but be reasonable.

Don't shoot towards the public road or horses.

Don't multiply your day's results by more than two.

Don't trespass where not wanted—it may prove expensive.

Don't hand your gun to a careless man when it is loaded.

Don't have cartridges in your gun on the homeward trip.

Don't get mad at your dog and fill him full of shot—it hurts the poor animal and may cause you to lose a valuable hunting adjunct.

Don't take more than half a dozen drinks of old rye—it's liable to make you see double if you exceed that number.

The healthy old man wears his gray hairs like a silver crown. What if he be threescore and ten if there is still fire in his eye, firmness in his step, command in his voice and wisdom in his counsel? He commands love and reverence. Yet how few wear the mantle of age with dignity. Dim eyed, querulous of speech, halting in step, childish in mind, they "lag superfluous on the stage," dragging out the fag end of life in a simple existence. The secret of a healthy old age is a healthy middle age. The man who takes care of his stomach, who keeps his body properly nourished, will find that the body does not fail him in old age. The great value of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery lies in the promotion of the wonderful power of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. From this center is distributed the nourishment of the whole body, the salt for the blood, the lime for the bones, phosphates for the brain and nerves. A sound stomach means a sound man. A man who keeps his stomach sound by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery," will wear the crown of gray hairs as befits a monarch, with dignity and ease.

The Passing of Croker.

From the Pittsburg Gazette.

For years Crokerism has been a synonym for all that is vicious in the politics of the metropolis, and there has been no sincere efforts to refute the grave charges against the administrations resulting from his leadership and manipulation of political affairs.

Corruption of morals and politics, bartering in public contracts, blackmailing by the police, protection of vice, and kindred evils, have been the predominating traits of the Croker regime, and their long toleration by the citizens was surprising to the people of the United States and mystifying to those of foreign nations. Although there was general knowledge of these outrages against good government Croker and his followers felt so secure in their possession of the officers that they defied public sentiment, and for a long time succeeded in defeating the efforts of reformers to remove the stain of dishonor from the names of their great city. Happily for the people of New York, and for the cause of good government generally, the reign of Crokerism is now at an end, and virtue and honesty return after a long exile. Public decency has triumphed in the election of Seth Low as mayor and William T. Jerome as district attorney, as well as in the defeat of Mayor VanWyck in his candidacy for a seat on the supreme bench. Croker at last has been driven from authority, and no man can be better spared from American politics

WILLIAM M'KINLEY

HIS LIFE AND WORK,

BY

GEN. CHARLES H. GROSVENOR,

The late President's lifelong friend, comrade in war, colleague in Congress and champion in House of Representatives; was near the President's side with other great men when his eyes were closed in death; followed his remains to National Capital and to Canton. Millions of copies will be sold. Sales spreading like fire in dry stubble; men and women taking 10 to 50 orders daily. It is the official book. Eulogies from Governors, Senators, editorials from great dailies. Last and dying words of world's great men, but none so grand as McKinley's—"IT IS GOD'S WAY." Contains photogravure of last photograph of President ever taken. You can easily and quickly clear $2,500. The General requires that share of proceeds of sale of every book sold shall be donated to a McKinley Monument Fund. Thus every subscriber to this book becomes a contributor to this fund. Everybody will buy it; orders for the asking; no one will refuse. Send 12 2-cent stamps for elegant prospectus; 100,000 copies will be sold in this vicinity quick; wideawake business man or woman of some means can make a fortune quick by getting sole control of a state. "Judge Love is the recognized leader of the Quay forces in Centre county."—John Hamilton to the Republican county convention, July 30, 1901.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON Nov. 13, 1901.

The Republican Congressmen are coming to Washington in considerable numbers and the President has received them all and has had several conferences with the members of the Ways and Means Committee. Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio, believes there is no desire on the part of the country for tariff revision. He says "The result shows there will be no more tariff revision by Congress than there will be a revision of the Ten Commandments. The verdict is not only against any revision of the tariff but against any reciprocity treaties that will affect the principle of protection." Hon. Serano E. Payne, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, is confident that no change is needed and that to open the subject would have a disquieting effect on business that would more than offset any good that might be accomplished. Maj. Steele, another member of the Committee, has seen the President and states that in his judgment "any tariff tinkering would be most injudicious." So far as I have been able to learn this is the almost unanimous opinion of the Republican members with the exception of a few, who, like Representative Babcock, have mistaken a local sentiment for a national opinion.

Senator Hanna, who came to Washington on Friday and called at the White House for the first time since Mr. Roosevelt's succession to the Presidency, expresses the belief that there is no occasion to revise the present law and the people would seriously disapprove such action on the part of Congress. Senator Platt concurs with Senator Hanna and Senator Depew says "Reciprocity is impractical and tariff tinkering not to be thought of". In view of these decided opinions on the part of the leaders of his party it is not believed that the President will make any recommendations to the contrary. Whatever his private views may have been, Mr. Roosevelt is too level-headed to consider himself in as good a position to judge of the wishes of the people as are their representatives from all over the country.

The President has, by his appointment of Robert G. Houston as Collector of the port of Wilmington, practically defined his position towards the J. Edward Addicks faction in Delaware. It will be remembered that Mr. Addicks has been the means of curtailing the Senatorial representation of his state for a number of years. He is not sufficiently influential to secure the Senatorial election himself and his contention has merely operated to prolong a deadlock which has made the election of a republican Senator from that state impossible. Mr. Houston is a prominent anti-Addicks leader, is Chairman of the Sussex County Republican Committee, and has the warm support of Representative Ball, the only Congressional representative of Delaware at the present time. The President recently appointed a Postmaster at Wilmington who was unfriendly to Mr. Addicks and with this new appointment it is predicted that Addicks' power will soon be so weakened that Delaware will be able to send her full quota to Congress.

It has been given out that the President has decided not to re-appoint Gov. Jenkins, of Oklahoma, who received his commission from President McKinley last summer. There have been charges made against Jenkins at the White House to the effect that his relations with certain contractors, who have been engaged in the construction of some public works, were not all that could be desired. With characteristic fairness Mr. Roosevelt gave Mr. Jenkins an opportunity to defend himself against his accusers but, as he has heard nothing from the Governor, he will probably appoint his successor at an early date. I am told at the White House that the President has no intention of appointing Zach Mulhall, but it is rumored that the appointment will go to a former Rough Rider.

The large number of Federal appointments to be made before the reassembling of Congress is occupying a great deal of the president's time, as he is most careful and painstaking in his selections. The judgeship in Virginia is attracting a good deal of attention at the present time and it is thought probable that Col. Hoge, who made such an excellent showing in the race for the governorship, may be selected.

One of the objects that brought Senator Hanna to Washington this week was his well known devotion to the memory of Wm. McKinley. The Senator is intensely interested in the progress of the William McKinley Memorial Association and believes that the Memorial Arch Association should unite with the former and the combined forces of the two be directed to the erection of a suitable monument in Canton, and that accomplished, take up the erection of the memorial arch in the national capital. He considers that the plans of the Arch Association are upon too large a scale. He has had several conferences with the leaders of that association but has not received much encouragement on his proposition for an amalgamation.

Every government employe who had a vote in New York state, from the president down to the laborers in the Departments, and the White House steward, went home to vote, and the result of the elections there and elsewhere, has been the constant topic of conversation since. The selection of Mr. Seth Low to be mayor of Greater New York is regarded by Washington Republicans, not only as a vote of confidence in the capability and integrity of the Republican party, but as an indorsement of the policy which has led that party to place in its foremost ranks young men permeated with all the fire and energy of youth, men of whom the president is the ideal type, and Seth Low and Gov. Odell scarcely less so.

Mr. Low evidently intends to model his administration after the lines laid down by President Roosevelt, for before leaving for Great Barrington, where he went to rest immediately after the election, he said "I shall make no appointments on the ground of patronage. I have made no pledges. I shall name my appointees simply on the ground of fitness for the position."

Washington Republicans are indignant over the situation in Maryland and declare it is an example of the length to which the Democrats will carry things when permitted to do so. They have the control of the machine and will probably be able to control the legislature, irrespective of how the people voted, but there is every reason to believe that the next time the people have an opportunity to express their wishes at the polls that they will do so in such certain tones that no amount of corruption will prevent Democratic defeat.

THE Pan-American Exposition did not pan out on expenses. There are millions in it yet——sunk.

CHARGES REFUTED BY ANNUAL REPORT.

The United States pension rolls embrace a larger number of pensioners today, that is to say at the present time, than at any other previous period, and Pennsylvania has a greater number of pensioners than any other State in the Union. These facts are shown in the annual report of the Commissioner of Pensions made public during the past week. The report also discloses the fact that the number of new names added to the rolls during the period covered by the report is larger than for any previous year. There were on the rolls on July 1, 1901, 907,735 names, a net increase over the preceding year of 4206. There were added to the rolls during the year the names of 44,225 new pensioners, and the number renewed and restored was 3567. The number dropped was 43,586, of which 38,153 were deaths. On account of the war with Spain, 5604 names were placed on the rolls. The total amount disbursed was 131,568,216.

The largest number of pensioners, according to the reports statistics, are found as stated above, in Pennsylvania, the aggregate being 104,-345 and the amount disbursed last year to these was $13, 78,371. Ohio comes next to Pennsylvania in the number of pensioners with an aggregate of 104,301 to whom was paid last year $15,211, 127. With forty-four less in number Ohio draws nearly $2,000,000 more money for pensions than Pennsylvania. In Delaware there are 2743 pensioners, who last year drew $384,521. In New Jersey 20,159, who were paid $2,402,039. In New York the number is 88,794, and the amount received by them $11,931.377. In almost every country in the world United States pensioners are found, and the number to whom pension checks are sent in foreign lands were; last year, 4547, and the amount disbursed to them was $64,162.

For the past few years there has been a persistent on the part of shyster pension attorneys and a clique of Grand Army veterans to oust Commissioner Evans. He has been accused of unfairness to the old soldiers and charged with failure to use even ordinary expedition in examining claims and issuing certificates. So far as these charges are concerned they are entirely disapproved by the report of the Commissioner. The facts herein set forth are in themselves sufficient evidence that Commissioner Evans has been the object of unjust censure and has been basely maligned; they alone destroy the foundation upon which the assaults against the Commissioners have been proceeding.

President McKinley refused emphatically to remove Mr. Evans and the report just issued is a confirmation of the late President's frequently expressed views that Commissioner Evan's administration of the Pension Bureau was above reproach and entirely consistent with pension laws, and the interests of old soldiers.

President Roosevelt has met the enemies of Mr. Evans with the same arguments and has peremptorily refused to remove him. The Pension Bureau was never better conducted as during the administration of Commissioner Evans and as President Roosevelt believes that efficiency is the chief recommendation for public service and as Mr. Evans has demonstrated his claim to this requirement it is safe to say that he will retain his position as long as President Roosevelt controls the disposition of the office.

THE CITIZEN WHO DOESN'T VOTE.

The New York Dispatch.

Most of the voters who refused to vote at the recent election would be most bitter in their denunciation of a law that would take the right of suffrage from them, and yet on occasions like this they refuse to exercise their privilege because they have not been stirred up into party fervor, or for some reason or another are dissatisfied with the political situation and ease their consciences by refusing to take part in an election where the courage of a man's convictions is required to vote right. Not voting is the way a good many voters meet perplexing questions and trying situations, but it is not a manly way. Every good citizen ought to vote and when one refuses he fails to do the duty of a good citizen. It is cowardly to shirk a grave responsibility by refusing to vote. We have a greater admiration for a man who votes against his party when he believes it wrong than for the men who has the same belief, yet refuses to give it expression, by his vote, and then goes about afterward prating about the corruption of politics and the wrongs that need to be righted. If moral and political reforms were left for correction to such citizens there never would be any reforms inaugurated. It's a brave man who follows his convictions with his ballot.

WITH the approach of winter the coal dealers are again being accused of new weighs of selling their wares.

Girl Tramp Was Dressed in a Boy's Clothes.

ALTOONA, Nov. 13.—Having cut off her beautiful, long black hair, Miss Mary Bennie, of Pittsburg, seventeen years old, was discovered a few nights ago in the disguise of a boy tramp in the Conemaugh lockup, near here, where she had obtained lodging. Suspicion was at first aroused by her cheerful, girlish laughter while in a cell with two boy companions, one of whom, it was afterward learned, gave her a suit of his clothes to wear before starting from home. She confessed to the police her real identity, and said she had arranged to make herself appear as a boy tramp and run away for the novelty, believing there would be much fun in it. The girl had been wandering over the country for more than a week, and had walked eighty miles. She was returned to her distracted parents.

A Beech Creek Lad Puts to Blush Some Older Nimrods.

BEECH CREEK, Nov. 13.—Harry Confer, the sixteen- years-old son of Cline Confer, living near this town, shot and killed a large doe within sight of the Hubbard school house last Thursday afternoon. A. F. Loomis, the boy's grandfather, saw the deer in the field and called to him to bring a gun from the house, with the above result.

John Gummo killed a good sized deer on the mountain back of his farm last week and Caldwell brothers, of the German settlement, are reported to have killed one.

The party with George F Keagle and Joseph McCloskey, who were camped for a week past on Panther run, shot one fair sized doe, but missed a bear.

Captured a Live Otter.

Frank S. Hammer, of the south side, captured a live otter on the mountain back of DuBoistown Sunday afternoon. Otters are rare in this section, this being the only one captured in a number of years.

—Louis Nile, aged 61 years, who lived alone in a small house near Addison, Somerset county, was missed by his neighbors, who instituted a search and his mangled body was found in one of the closets. His skull was crushed and it was evident that he had been murdered. He had recently sold his property for $500 and it is supposed he was killed for this money by somebody who knew he had secured it.

—The editor of an exchange remarks that he always feels sorry for a girl who clings to a fellow who will spend a dollar for ice cream and chocolates and three for a Sunday buggy ride for her on a six dollar a week salary, and sees visions of bare footed children, a frowzy headed woman over a washtub, tin cans for dishes on the table, and a combination of a corn cob pipe and a man in the corner. The young man who lives within his means while single usually has means after he's married.

ANTHONY TROLLOPE.

Miseries and Irritations Incident Upon His Start In Life.

Anthony Trollope's start in life was unpromising. As he knew no languages, ancient or modern, he became classical usher at a school in Brussels, with the promise of a commission in the Austrian army. Then he was suddenly transferred to a clerkship in the London postoffice. He was disqualified for the new position by general ignorance and special incapacity for the simplest arithmetic. A vague threat that he must pass an examination was forgotten before it was put into execution, and Trollope characteristically takes occasion to denounce the system of competitive examination by which he would have been excluded. Meanwhile he was turned loose in London and attempted to live like a gentleman on £90 a year. The results are indicated by a couple of anecdotes.

A money lender once advanced him £4, for which, first and last, he paid £200. This person, he says, became so much attached to him as to pay a daily visit to his office and exhort him to be punctual. "These visits were very terrible and can hardly have been of service to me in the office." This mild remark applies also to the visits from the mother of a young woman in the country who had fallen in love with him and to whom he "lacked the pluck to give a decided negative." The mother used to appear with a basket on her arm and an immense bonnet upon her head and inquire in a loud voice before all his companions, "Anthony Trollope, when are you going to marry my daughter?"

No wonder that he was miserable. He was hopelessly in debt and often unable to pay for a dinner. He hated his work, he says, and he hated his idleness; he quarreled with his superiors, who thought him hopelessly incapable and felt that he was sinking "to the lowest pits." At last he heard of a place in the Irish postoffice which everybody despised and was successful on applying for it, because his masters were glad to get rid of him. At the same time they informed his new superior that he would probably have to be dismissed on the first opportunity.—National Review.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

Ice cream is said to be an infallible remedy for hiccoughs.

Skin cleanliness, or, in other words, frequent ablution of the whole person, is a powerful preservative against all infectious and contagious diseases.

To cure a sprain bruise a handful of sage leaves and boil them in a gill of vinegar for five minutes. Apply this in a folded napkin as hot as it can be borne to the part affected.

For inflamed eyes use the white of an egg beaten to a froth and add to it a tablespoonful of rosewater. Apply with a piece of cotton wool, which must be changed as often as it dries.

A soothing drink for sore throat that is recommended is made of a pint of barley water brought to a boil over a hot fire, to which is added while stirring until dissolved an ounce of the best gum arabic. Sweeten to taste.

Light being an element of cheerfulness, as much of it as the patient can bear without discomfort should always be admitted to the sickroom, care being taken to keep reflecting objects, such as crystals and looking glasses, out of the invalid's view.

Infusorial Earth.

In the whole catalogue of "chemicals, minerals and rare elements," the prices of which are quoted every week by trade journals, perhaps no name is more puzzling to the uninitiated than "infusorial earth." Still, if one knows much about dynamite he is aware that this is the stuff employed as an absorbent to hold the nitroglycerin of that famous explosive. It was Nobel, the great Swedish engineer, who founded a number of attractive prizes to encourage scientific progress, who first discovered the trick by which nitroglycerin could be safely handled. Infusorial earth is composed of the silicious shells of minute vegetable organisms, diatoms which reveal wonderfully complicated and beautiful structures under the microscope.—New York Tribune.

Philadelphia City Committee to Investigate Alleged Frauds.

PHILADELPHIA, November 13.—The city committee of the union party held its first regular meeting Monday since the election and took steps to investigate alleged violations of the election laws last Tuesday. There was a full representation of ward chairmen present and most of them made reports charging fraudulent voting in their respective wards. State Chairman Frank M. Ritter offered a resolution which was unanimously adopted, that the city chairman "investigate all charges of flagrant violation of the election laws and to arrange at once for the criminal prosecution of all who partici pated therein."

All the ward chairmen are to report such evidence of violations as they can secure within ten days, and it was stated, if this evidence is sufficient to warrant it, the union party will contest the election in both the city and the state.

Among other business transacted at Monday's meeting was the appointment of a committee on rules for the city committee, which will be made a permanent organization.

Will Fight With the Boers.

Over a dozen of Erie's young men have enlisted in the Boer cause against the English. A Boer agent from Chicago was in the city several days and arranged the enlistments. Several of those who enlisted have seen actual service in the army of Uncle Sam.

The matter was kept secret because of a fear of governmental interference, and it is said that those who enlisted did not leave the city in a party or give out their intentions except to their immediate family.

At least two of the men served in Company C, Fifteenth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, during the Spanish war. It is said by those who profess to be on the inside that the enlistments are being made all over the country in order to recruit the decimated ranks of the Boer army.

—Clearfield's public schools have an enrollment this term of 981 pupils an increase of 315 over last term.

—An Italian laborer was taken Tuesday to the hospital at Lock Haven, from Oak Grove. A rock fell on him and broke his leg in two places.

—J. W. Emery, formerly of Renovo, died in the Kane hospital of paralysis Saturday night, aged 68 years. The remains were interred at Renovo Tuesday.

—Ten public schools near Kittanning have been closed on account of a strike in progress among the teachers. The occasion is caused by the demands of the teachers to equalize the salaries.

—By the breaking of a bolt in a door of a blast furnace of the Cambria Steel company at Johnstown Saturday Adam Naugle, aged 65 years, was killed and George Haney and Samuel Wagner were burned.

—John, the 13 year old son of F. X. Lehman, of Patton, left his home Tuesday of last week and his parents are much concerned about him. Following is a description furnished: Slender build, four feet six inches tall, gray eyes, dark complexion, dark brown hair; wore a blue sweater with red stripes, a well-worn brown coat, light blue knee pants, black stockings and shoes, and a blue winter cap, round in shape. The Leyman's formerly conducted the Brant House at this place.

Mr. William Valence East Lamb street, Night watchman, says: "For 2 years or more off and on, I had trouble with my back and pains in the upper part of my spine accompanied by a disagreeable feeling in my head and acute lameness right over my kidneys. At first I thought it was my liver but later found it arose from the kidneys not acting properly. I read of the many cures that had been made in Bellefonte by Doan's Kidney Pills and I got them at F. Potts Green's drug store. They stopped the annoyance from the kidneys and removed the lameness and aching in my back. They did me any amount of good and I do not hesitate to recommend them."

IN THE CAR KITCHEN

SNUG MANNER IN WHICH EATABLES ARE STOWED AWAY.

Methods by Which Stores Are Replenished Which Give Out En Route—The Room For the Waiters. The Cooks and Their Work.

The actual standing room in the car kitchen consists of an aisle only wide enough for two men to pass each other and about fifteen feet long. On one side is an unbroken row of ranges, the very best sort invented, for when men do women's work they are not content with makeshift tools. On the other side is a steam table for keeping things hot, other tables and some of the refrigerators, for there are many. Hot water and cold is held in cylinders which lie along the ceiling and look like the projectiles used on torpedo boats.

One refrigerator is devoted exclusively to fish, which lie shining on blocks of clear ice as tempting as in any fish market. Until I had actually seen this refrigerator it had been my practice to refuse fish in traveling, feeling there was some mystery about its preservation, but now—indeed, no such thing. I had fancied the whole menu cooked at once in enormous quantities, like a soldiers' mess at camp, and my fastidious car appetite had revolted and faded away during the first course, but now I eat with relish, knowing the condition of the source of supply.

Another refrigerator is entirely for meats and game, another for fruit, and even bread and cake are kept in a refrigerator that they retain their moisture. Outside the kitchen there is a sacred icebox under lock and key, and no man may put his hand therein except the steward or housekeeper of the dining car. There twenty-five kinds of wine are kept, and there will be shown to you, with a manner awed but proud, the royal family of champagne with cool, gold crowned heads sitting on an icy throne.

But, to go back to the kitchen, that apartment is occupied by three men all in white, with perhaps a blue cordon for tradition's sake, who serve deftly and capably the hiveful of waiters that swarm at the open square at the inner end of the room. It is a wise provision that prevents close contacts, for cooks are apt to be "redhot" at the crucial hour of dinner serving, and, besides, the car kitchen can contain no more men than the three cooks, who broil, roast, stew and fry the numberless fancies of the patrons' palates. These men work hard. The head cook, whose salary is about $70 per month, stands farthest from the window where the waiters clamor and is a bit more serious. The middle cook, on $45 salary, is lively or submissive according to the man he addresses, and the end cook finds time to chaff the owners of the dark faces who call orders, and sometimes he sings as happily as a conceited boy who fancies his future on the operatic stage.

These three men make up the white capped trio we see peering out of the windows of the dining car as it slips into the station. All the other employees of the train come into contact with passengers and have interesting experiences, but these are confined in the galley and are eager for scant glimpses at the station. Sometimes the car has a little balcony at the end, where they can escape the heat of their quarters, a needed relief in summer time.

The waiters have a pantry adjoining the kitchen and opening into it only by the little square window with a counter on either side. When your order is given and the waiter disappears, this is where he has gone. Here are kept supplies of dishes and silver, and here it is the waiter makes up the dishes of cakes, fruit and cheese you call for with which to tie up the ends of your appetite.

Before the dining car is drawn away from the caryards the special housekeeper who has it in charge must see that every sort of supply is on hand and in sufficient, but not too lavish, quantity. Sometimes there are ninety persons to feed, sometimes one-third that number, but the probable number on the various runs is known. In long journeys there are commissary stations along the way where the car may be restocked, but this is seldom necessary except with such perishables as cream and milk. Have you ever heard a porter agitating that subject with station employees at Buffalo or elsewhere? That means the emergency has arisen in the dining car. Such things might easily happen in a larder where demands are irregular and markets scores of miles away. It is a wonder they do not happen oftener when we reflect that economy in perishable things is exacted from the steward housekeeper.

Just before he sends his black commissary to announce dinner to the hungering pasengers every man slips on jacket and apron of whitest linen and by this little act of costuming is converted at once from the nondescript man of the streets into the most spruce of servitors. Then, with everything ready in the kitchen and with his flock of assistants about him, the housekeeper of the dining car awaits the coming of his guests. And in they come, thoughtless blessing takers, with never a reflection on the hours of preparation by the army of men that it has taken to give them the degree of comfort which is purchasable for a dollar bill.—Ainslee's Magazine.

The river flows quietly along toward the sea, yet it always gets there. It might be well to remember this when you are trying to rush things.—Chicago News.

An Afflicted Brother.

Brother Dickey was under the weather the other day. In describing his symptoms he said: "Yes, suh, hit's true dat I ain't feelin' half well. In de fust place, I 'flicted wid rattlin' er de bones; den I troubled wid battin' er de eyelids, liftin' er de lef' leg, wobblin' er de right foot en crackin' er de top skull. All I needs now ter finish me complete is six months er de unj'inted rheumatism!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Substitute For Soap.

There are a few people to whose skins soap seems an irritant. They should use bran. The sons of one of the old kings of Holland were forbidden the use of soap. They were to use bran and a slice of lemon, the latter to remove inkstains. Napoleon never used soap, but kept his hands beautifully white by the use of bran.

The Day and the Text.

"Hit wuz a mighty cold day," said the old deacon, "en dey wuz some excuse fer de passon makin' dat big mistake in his text, fer stidder sayin' 'Many is called, but few is chosen,' he give hit out, 'Many is cold, en a few is frozen.'"—Atlanta Constitution.

NEGRO SOCIETIES.

THE SOUTHERN COLORED MAN'S LOVE OF POMP AND CIRCUMSTANCE.

Wonderfully Named Organizations to Provide For Members' Sick Benefits and Funeral Expenses—How They Flourish In Charleston.

The southern negro's love of pomp and circumstance is nowhere exemplified more forcibly than in the manner in which he multiplies his charitable organizations. Inordinately fond of company, he has few societies founded with the sole view of promoting social enjoyment. For the most part, whatever foundations he makes have a semireligious trend, the dues entitling members to sick benefits and funeral expenses. There is usually an elaborate regalia and an intricate ritual. Not a few negroes of a southern city, such as Charleston, belong to no less than a score of these orders, the names of which are oftentimes curiously and wonderfully made. What, for instance, would the ordinary patron of secret organizations think of possessing membership in the Sons and Daughters of the Seven Golden Candlesticks In Charity or in the Sons and Daughters of I Will Arise?

The sons and daughters idea is worked to the limit of endurance. There is scarcely a well known name in Biblical history that is not tacked on to it. There are in Charleston alone no less than seventy-five of these societies with charters from the state of South Carolina, and how many there are that have no legal status no man may say with confidence.

Dues are paid weekly, and, strange as it may seem when the great poverty of the negro of the south is considered, the arrears list is a brief one indeed. Of course the charges are small, usually about 25 cents a month, but when it is remembered that many individuals belong to six or eight or even more orders it is little short of marvelous how the funds necessary to meet the demands of the collectors are found, and yet it is so deep a disgrace to be expelled that instances of the kind are very rare. To hold membership in a number of societies is regarded as a badge of honor.

Meetings are held monthly in private residences, in public halls or, more frequently still, in churches. These gatherings begin at the fashionable hour of 10 p. m. and continue not infrequently throughout the night. Refreshments are to be had for a small consideration, and as these are for the most part of a liquid nature the sons and daughters are prone to be conspicuous by their absence from their several places of employment next morning. Often the police have to interfere to restore that harmony in which brothers and sisters should ever dwell together.

Among the societies in Charleston are the Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims, the Sons and Daughters of the Twelve Disciples, the Sons and Daughters of the Bearer of the Cross, the Sons and Daughters of the Evening Star, the Sons and Daughters of the Seventh Star, the Sons and Daughters of the Celestial Travelers, the Sons and Daughters of the Good Samaritan, the Sons and Daughters of the East, the Sons and Daughters of Lazarus, the Sons and Daughters of Christian Love, and there might be added to these fully twoscore of others. The devotion of the negroes to these organizations and their loyalty to their fellow members are absolute.

The funeral of a colored man or woman who holds membership in a half dozen of these orders is a spectacle worth witnessing. Occasionally bitter feuds arise between rival societies for the possession of a corpse, for the negro's love of a funeral is not second even to his love of melons. The ceremonies usually begin the night before the actual interment is to take place. There are sermons, prayers and personal experiences interspiced with wild bursts of incoherent melody, which arouses religious fervor to fever height. Men and women faint in the course of the exercises, many others fall into trances and talk of visions of their dead friends enthroned in glory.

The ceremonies culminate in a formal procession. It is forming for an hour before the residence of the late lamented son or daughter. Negroes from the uttermost parts of the city gather in the streets. The occasion is a festive one. They run and shout and caper. The members of the organizations to which the dead person belonged stand in solemn order, clad in elaborate uniforms and bearing the banners and other insignia of their respective orders, and when the cortege finally moves, wending its way at times through miles of the city's streets, it is followed by a mad rush of men, women and children, who block the thoroughfares, and traffic for the time being has to be suspended. The hope of such a funeral is the inspiration of many a negro's whole life. He slaves and deprives himself of actual necessities for years to meet the demands of the collectors of the societies in order that he may go to his last resting place in the midst of such strangely weird pageantry.—Charleston Letter in New York Tribune.

Hymns at $500 a Yard.

A musical composer once said to Mr. Sankey with more frankness than courtesy that he could write such tunes as those of the "Gospel Hymnbook" by the yard if he were willing to come down to it. Mr. Sankey quietly replied, "Well, sir, all I have to say is that I am willing to pay five hundred dollars a yard, either to you or to anybody else, for all the tunes you can bring me like those in our 'Gospel Hymnbook.'"—Ladies' Home Journal.

A DUEL AND A JOKE.

Count Boni de Castellane's First Affair Upon the Field of Honor.

Count Boni de Castellane's first duel was when he had just come from school. Lad as he was, he could ride, shoot and handle a sword, but he was still very young, very bashful, rather green. At the club to which he had just been admitted some of the men, whom life made cynical, began to guy him. It was easy to stir up his anger, for they chattered scandal about a woman he knew. He pulled over the table and struck one of the men. The next day he received a challenge. In good faith he selected two good clubmen as his seconds. In all this the club fellows saw only a joke, and when the arrangements were hurried and the two opponents stood face to face in a meadow near the Seine the pistols were loaded—with blackened bread crumbs.

"One, two, three!" They fired together. The clubman gave a great cry and fell to the ground groaning.

"He's fatally wounded—dying!" the seconds exclaimed, choking with laughter.

De Castellane felt the heart in him run away like water. He had killed a man. It was not possible!

"Dead?" he asked anxiously.

"Yes," said the corpse and sat up grinning.

The schoolboy looked at the laughing clubmen and saw the joke they had played on him. He stooped and caught the corpse by the ankle, dragged it a bit and with a sudden jerk tossed it ten feet into the river.

"Then I'll bury it," said he.

As the clubman crawled from the river, dripping mud and water, they decided the joke was on him.—Saturday Evening Post.

THE COLOSSUS OF RHODES.

One of the Ancient Seven Wonders of the World.

The ancients succeeded in making that alloy of copper which is known as bronze. Among the seven wonders of the world was the famous statue, wholly made of bronze, historically known as the colossus of Rhodes. It represented Phœbus, the national deity of the Rhodians. It was begun by Chares, a pupil of Lysippus, the sculptor, and was completed by Laches 288 B. C. The popular belief is that it stood astride the harbor of Rhodes, that it was 105 feet high and that ships could easily sail between its legs.

Pliny said that few men could clasp its thumb. It was cast on metal plates, afterward joined together, and this process occupied twelve years. In the interior was a spiral staircase reaching into its head, and in a great mirror suspended to its neck were reflected the coast of Syria and the ships sailing to Egypt.

After it had stood for sixty-four years this colossus was overthrown by an earthquake, and its remains lay on the shore for 923 years—that is, until A. D. 672—when they were sold by the Saracens to a Hebrew dealer. The original cost was 300 talents—say, $6,000,000—and it is not too much to say that a similar image might be constructed now in one-fourth of the time and at one-third of the original cost. Rhodes, by the way, must have had colossus on the brain, for Pliny relates that the port was adorned with 1,000 colossal statues of the sun.

Men's Hatboxes.

"It might seem," said a trunk and bag manufacturer, "that a man's hatbox was just a hatbox; but, as a matter of fact, men's hatboxes are made in very considerable variety. They are oval and square and oblong as to form, of sole leather, or harness leather and of enameled leather as to material and of various capacities, from boxes designed for one hat to boxes for four hats. And there are made in the oval shape boxes with a removable center section in which, according as that section is taken out or left in, can be carried one hat or three.

"And some hatboxes have a tray for collars and cuffs, and so on, and in some the hat bowls are removable, so that upon occasion the box can be turned into a good sized plain case that can be used for any purpose whatever."—New York Sun.

Both Rather Flippant.

There is a curious parallelism between two stories told respectively of the late Mr. Spurgeon and of Dean Swift.

Mr. Spurgeon, on hearing of the devastation wrought by an earthquake in Essex, merely remarked, "I am glad to hear that my county is moving at last."

The dean of St. Patrick's, Dublin, was watching with a friend the roof of a building on which several men were at work fixing slates. Suddenly one of the men vanished. Thereupon the dean turned to his companion and said, "I like to see a man go quickly through his work."

A Sentimentalist.

Johnny Sizzletop—Electricity is a great thing!

Willie Boerum—W-why, yes, but there isn't half the fun pushing electric buttons at folks' front doors that there is pulling the old fashioned doorbells!—Brooklyn Eagle.

Deceived.

Edith—You say old Mr. Goldley deceived Edith dreadfully about his age?

Gladys—Yes, poor girl! After they were married he confessed that he was only sixty instead of seventy-five.

HAVE TO GIVE UP.

ITS ALL OVER WHEN NERVOUS SICK HEADACHE COMES TO YOUNG OR OLD—EVERYTHING STOPS AND NOTHING GOES ON BUT THE NERVOUS SICK HEADACHES.

If anything will engender a disregard for even life itself it is continued or oft repeated attacks of nervous sick headache. You may be able to partially describe it but the English language fails to fully do it justice. Its misery so concentrated, so condensed, so prostrating that all else is enveloped in its meshes.

Mrs. John B. Beck, of No. 115 3rd St., North, Philipsburg, Pa., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are just fine. I used to suffer all the time with nervous sick headaches, terrible headaches that weakens one and makes one nervous and trembly. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got a box and the result was remarkable. The medicine stopped the headaches completely. A single box did this for me and I am only too glad to say so."

By calling at Krumrine's Drug Store information can be obtained regarding this great success of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills and how they were first introduced by proof of their merit.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sometimes that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D. are worth pack[illegible]

EXPENSIVE DINNERS.

Two That Were Served In Delmonico's Old Place In New York.

Probably the most expensive dinner ever given at Delmonico's old restaurant, on Fourteenth street, New York, was that given by Mr. Morton Peto to the tea and coffee merchants of New York, 200 in number. It cost $25,000. The rarest wines and the most elaborate decorations were mere incidents. The menu cards were of gold, and the guests sat on silk cushions on which their names were embroidered. In the center of the table was a miniature lake in which swam swans taken from Central park. Clara Louise Kellogg received $1,000 for singing two songs at this feast and a present besides of a diamond bracelet. The salon was smothered in flowers.

Another dinner given at one of the Delmonico establishments for ten people cost $400 a plate. It was luxurious enough to be classical. The waiters, five of them, were dressed as sailors. The host was a yachtsman, and he bought the waiters' clothes. The guests drank, or, rather, tasted, every vinted liquor that ever has been brought to America. They finished with a pousse cafe made of eleven liqueurs. Before each plate sat a cut glass basin about twenty inches in diameter and four inches deep. Each was nearly filled with water perfumed with attar of roses, on the surface of which floated half open pond lilies. In the basin a perfect model of the yacht owned by the host was placed. It was cut in red cedar wood, with cabin, rail, wheel for steering, brasswork, such as belaying pins and binnacles, manropes worked and trimmed with sailor knots, scraped pine masts and booms, rigging of silken cords colored as it would be in the original, and sails of satin. There were a gold oar and many other gewgaws.—New York Sun.

FLOWER AND TREE.

A good tree well planted will usually grow whether the work is done in the spring or fall.

A white pine will measure twenty-five feet at twenty years and gain twenty-five feet more in the next ten years.

The smallest tree in the world is the Greenland birch. Its height is less than three inches, yet it covers a radius of two or three feet.

In dealing with your plants be prompt. If one needs attention, see that it gets it at once. This is the only way to have success in plant growing.

Experts assert upon investigation that the fir trees of western Washington grow from 150 to 300 feet high and are from five to thirty-five feet in diameter and are stronger than oak of the Atlantic coast.

If you want your palms to thrive in an ordinary sitting room, sponge the leaves once a week with lukewarm water to which a little milk has been added. Then stand the plant for two hours in lukewarm water deep enough to completely cover the pot. This is the proper way to water palms.

A Toothsome Revenge.

During the reign of Charles II., the age of gallantry, it was the custom among gentlemen when they drank a a lady's health, in order that they might do her still more honor, to destroy at the same time some part of their clothing.

Upon one occasion Sir Charles Sedley was dining in a tavern and had a particularly fine necktie on, whereupon one of his friends, to play him a trick, drank to the health of a certain lady, at the same time throwing his necktie in the fire. Of course Sir Charles had to do likewise, but he got even, for not long after that, dining with the same company, he drank the health of a fair one, at the same time ordering a dentist whom he had engaged to be present, to pull out a refractory tooth which had been troubling him. Everyone else was obliged in this manner to mourn a molar.

Sitting Room Drama.

"Who comes there?" called little Willie, the sentry, in threatening tones as he brought his deadly wooden gun into shooting position.

"A friend!" answered little Tommie from behind the rocking chair.

"Advance and give the countersign," hissed the sentry, "or I'll shoot your head off."

An ominous silence followed this terrible threat. Then Tommie said plaintively:

"I've forgot it."

"You can't remember nuthin'," exclaimed Willie in disgust, throwing down his gun. "Cum over here an' I'll whisper it to you ag'in."—Ohio State Journal.

Food Receptacles.

All receptacles for food should, as far as possible, be kept germ and insect free. Glass, pottery and metallic wares are therefore preferable to wood. They should have no joints or grooves, as these harbor minute particles of food. Before placing food in them they should be thoroughly washed, scalded with boiling water, wiped dry and then be allowed to cool. Placing them in the sun when practicable for a couple of hours will also add to their purity.

Hopeful.

It Reached Him.

A letter was received at the postoffice in Washington directed to the biggest fool in that city.

The postmaster was absent, and on his return one of the younger clerks informed him of the receipt of the letter.

"And what became of it?" inquired the postmaster.

"Why," replied the clerk, "I didn't know who the biggest fool in Washington was, so I opened it myself."

"And what did you find in it?" inquired the postmaster.

"Find?" replied the clerk. "Why, nothing but the words, 'Thou art the man.'"—New York Herald.

A Name Twice Made Famous, Now a Shining Mark for Imitators.

The name "Chase," twice made famous, is a shining mark for the unscrupulous to pounce upon and appropriate in order to foist upon the public their worthless preparations. These birds of prey, by using the name Chase, expect the public to be fooled into believing they are the medicines of Dr. A. W. Chase, who first became noted as the author of the world-famed Dr. Chase's recipe book and family physician, and whose fame is now doubly increased by the wonderful success of his Nerve Pills, with Nerve, Brain and Blood troubles. They play upon the name Chase, but dare not use the initials "A. W."

They imitate, but dare not counterfeit the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, which identifies the Nerve Pills now recognized as infallible for building up pale weak, thin-blooded, nerve exhausted sufferers,

Who are nerve-tired and brain-weary.
Who are easily exhausted.
Who are wakeful—cannot sleep.
Who have nervous headache.

They remove the cause of blood impurities, securing refreshing sleep and impart strength.

They build up people who find their strength and vigor waning.

The above is the right kind prepared by the Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y., 50 cents per box. All others are imitations.

REV. DR. SWALLOW.

Convicted of Falsehood and Suspended.

Rev. Silas C. Swallow was convicted Wednesday at Harrisburg of falsehood by a committee of the Central Pennsylvania Methodist conference and suspended from the ministry until the next annual conference, which meets at Shamokin next March.

The charges against Dr. Swallow were preferred by Rev. C. V. Hartzell, pastor of the Vine Street Methodist Episcopal church, that city.

There were eleven charges in all, and the committee sustained eight of them, the other three being embodied in the sustained ones.

Dr. Swallow's suspension from ministerial services and church privileges takes effect immediately and continues until the annual meeting of the conference, when action by that body will make final disposition of the matter.

Dr. Swallow is editor of the Pennsylvania Methodist, and is widely known as a politician, preacher and temperance advocate. In the early spring of 1897 Dr. Swallow published an alleged expose of frauds in the State Treasury and was nominated by the Prohibitionists for State Treasurer. He polled 119,000 votes but the next year, when he ran for Governor, he was defeated by an enormous plurality. Last year he was the presidential nominee of the Christian Advocate.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

Burglars at Flemington.

Burglars operated early Wednesday morning in Flemington and entered a number of places, among them being the stores of Joseph Long, G. Watson Fredericks and W. R. Stewart. At Long's and Stewart's store the front doors were pried open, at the store of Mr. Frederick's entrance was effected through a window at the rear of the store. From $25 to $28 in money was taken from W. R. Stewart's store together with a lot of overalls, gloves and shoes. The cash register was broken to pieces.

At Long's stors $2.50 in cash was taken and a few articles of merchandise. At the store of G. Watson Fredericks no money was taken but the burglars obtained a few articles in the line of store goods. The meat market of W. R. Stewart was also broken open but nothing is missing of value. An unsuccessful attempt was made to enter the residence of O. S. Kelsey.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Spice Cake.

Last summer, says the Topeka (Kan.) Capital, The Neodesha Register ran an original cooking department. To increase the interest in it The Register wrote asking contributions from Mrs. McKinley, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. John J. Ingalls and Mrs. W. E. Stanley. Mrs. Bryan wrote, courteously declining, so did Secretary Cortelyou for Mrs. McKinley. Mrs. Ingalls and Mrs. Roosevelt responded graciously, and Mrs. Ingalls with two recipes, and the three were published at the time. Following is Mrs. Roosevelt's recipe: Spice cake—One cup of butter, two cups sugar, one cup milk, four eggs, four cups flour, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, one tablespoonful ground cinnamon, half teaspoonful nutmeg.

Severe on Directors.

"I have been quoted in the newspapers a good deal of late in speaking of my views on the subject of flogging unruly pupils," said Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction Houck, in addressing the Dauphin county school directors' association, "and to-day I want to make it stronger and say that some directors ought to be flogged, to."

He referred to the great power intrusted to school directors and the fact that they are directly responsible to no one. "School directors," said Mr. Houck, "can do more and do less than any one else, and yet not be put into jail for it,"

CONVICTS MUTINY!

Trouble at the New Federal Prison Site at Leavenworth.

PRISONERS SECURE REVOLVERS

In the Melee that Followed One Man Was Killed, Three Others Were Dangerously Wounded and Twenty-six Convicts Escaped.

WERE GUARDED BY THIRTY MEN

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Nov. 8.—One man was killed, three others dangerously wounded and twenty-six desperate convicts are at large, as the result of a mutiny late this afternoon at the site of the new United States prison, two miles southeast of here, where 400 prisoners from the Federal prison, in charge of 30 armed guards, were at work.

When the trouble began the rebellious prisoners had only two revolvers. These had been secreted in one of the walls of the building by some unknown persons. The walls are partly completed and the remainder of the site of the building is surrounded by a high wooden stockade. Gus. Parker, of Ardmore, I. T., one of the ringleaders of the mutiny, under the pretense of a necessity, walked to the corner of the stockade, where the revolvers were concealed under cover of some weeds and secured them without being detected. He returned to the gang and passed one of the revolvers to Frank Thompson, a negro from South McAlester, I. T., who secreted it about his person.

When T. E. Hinds, superintendent of construction, and three unarmed guards prepared to round up the men at the end of the day's work, the two armed convicts covered them with the revolvers and, encouraged by the other mutinous convicts, forced the men to walk before them to the northwestern corner of the stockade, where they expected to make a rush through the opening. On the outside of the stockade was an armed guard and the convicts were met at the opening by C. E. Burrows, a guard, who fought them back, but who received two shots in the neck. The convicts then rushed over to the south wall to another opening and were met by Arthur Treelford, an armed guard, who is in charge of all the convicts. Treelford resisted the convicts and was shot twice, but not dangerously wounded.

Defeated in their attempt to escape at this point, the men rushed to the guard house, a temporary frame structure, where the arms are kept. The guards from the onteide rushed in at this point and drove the convicts away from the guard house. J. P. Walgrupe, a guard, shot and killed Ford Quinn from Ryan, I. T. The prisoners then made a grand rush for the main entrance and twenty-six of themsucceeded in escaping. Most of the escaped men are from Indian Territory. Closely followed by the guard, the men ran to a nearby forest and succeeded in evading their pursuers.

The men went in the direction of Easton, Kansas, and it is reported here that they have held up many farmers, taking horses and clothing.

Spreads Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggists of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years." You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by F. Potts Green Druggist.

Ready to Start a New Town.

SILENCE!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of free consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Doctor R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"Having used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery' during the past year," writes Mrs. Mattie Long, of Pfouts Valley, Perry Co., Pa., "I can truthfully recommend these medicines for all female weaknesses. I have used several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' which I consider a great blessing to weak women. I was so nervous and discouraged that I hardly knew what to do. Your kind advice for home treatment helped me wonderfully. Thanks to Dr. Pierce."

Biliousness is cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

An Old Bible.

Rev. L. G. Heck has just returned from Elk county, says the Lock Haven Democrat. While at Spring Run he was shown a German Catholic Bible, which was printed in 1564, and which is claimed by Mr. and Mrs. Christ Dill, who have possession of it, to be the oldest Bible of that issue in existence

There is an interesting bit of history connected with the Bible. Over 50 years ago Mr. Dill loaned it to a man in whom he had confidence. The book was not returned to Mr. Dill and that gentleman desiring to repossess himself of it made many inquiries, and these not giving him any trace of it, Mr. Dill started on foot for Baltimore and thence to Philadelphia, thence to New York, in search of the highly prized book. Not finding it, he returned to Baltimore where he learned information that enabled him to locate it. He proceeded to the city and after considerable difficulty succeeded in re-establishing his ownership and in obtaining it. He then returned home after an absence of several weeks.

It is safe to say that the Bible was never thereafter loaned to anybody. It is a very large book; the printing is somewhat faded, but legible, and it is in a fair state of preservation. Mr. Dill states that he has refused an offer of $500 for the book

Great Luck Of An Editor.

"For two years all efforts to cure Eczema in the palms of my hands failed," writes Editor H. N. Lester, of Syracuse, Kan., "then I was wholly cured by Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's the world,s best for Eruptions, Sores and all skin diseases. Only 25c at F. Potts Greens Drug Store.

Fatal Hunting Accident.

William Bishop, aged 17 years, of Mifflin county, was fatally wounded Monday afternoon, by the explosion of his gun, while hunting for rabbits. When he pulled the trigger the gun exploded with the heavy charge and the breech of the gun hit him above the right eye and tore a large hole in his skull. His brother called assistance and he was taken home and Dr. Parcels sent for. The doctor on arriving found the wound too bad to dress fully a cupful of his brains having run out on the pillow on which his head rested. He died on Wednesday morning.

TAMMANY'S DOWNFALL

Late Returns Increase Fusion Victory in New York.

SHEPARD CARRIED BUT ONE BORO

The Result in Pennsylvania—Potter's Plurality 47,939—Constitutional Amendments Carried by Big Majority.

THE TOTAL VOTE IN THE STATE

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The reports received from the outlying precincts of Greater New York and some of the belated returns for Manhattan island add to, rather than detract from, the fusionist victory of Tuesday. For mayor, Edward M. Shepard, Democrat, appears to have carried only a single borough, and in this borough—Queens—his plurality will not amount to more than a few hundred.

In the county of New York the last remaining hope of the Democrats appears to have been swept away by figures indicating the defeat of John T. Oakley, for sheriff, by William T. O'Brien, O'Brien's majority, however, will probably not amount to more than 3,000 or 4,000. The majorities of the fusionist candidates for justice of the supreme court and for William Travers Jerome, the fusionist nominee for district attorney, are even larger than reported Tuesday night.

Incomplete figures indicate that Jerome will carry his district, New York county, by about 15,000. So badly was Mayor Van Wyck scratched that returns indicating his vote for justice of the supreme court are late and it is difficult to even attempt to estimate the final figures, but it is believed that he will run nearly 30,000 behind some of his associates on the county and judicial tickets.

All of the fusionist candidates for justice of the supreme court in New York county are elected and all of the Democratic candidates are beaten. The name of Justice O'Brien, however, appears on both tickets as a candidate for justice of the supreme court.

In the municipal elections throughout the state the Republicans effected some gains in the larger cities. Buffalo, the only first class city outside of the metropolis, elected Erastus C. Knight, Republican, by over 5,000 majority.

Of four second class cities, Syracuse was captured by the Republicans, McGuire, one of the Democratic leaders of the state, being defeated. Albany and Troy were retained by the Republicans. Both parties are claiming Rochester, and the plurality of A. J. Rodenbeck, Republican, in the event of the official figures demonstrating his election, will be very small.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Practically complete returns from the the state give Harris, Republican, for state treasurer, 52,360 plurality and Potter, Republican, for supreme court judge, 47,939 plurality. The official totals from the few counties in which the vote is incomplete will not materially alter the foregoing pluralities.

A number of counties have not yet completed the returns of the vote on the proposed constitutional amendments, but the figures received from two-thirds of the state indicate that the amendments carried by a big majority, although the aggregate vote on this question fell far below that for the state candidates.

The total vote cast in the state will approximate 850,000. The total vote cast last year was 1,163,210. Two years ago the total was 790,501.

Automatic Stokers.

A Pennsylvania official has predicted that automatic stokers will be used on all the company's locomotive within the next two years. The question has been under consideration for some time. Numerous stoking devices have been inspected and an engine on the Pique division has been equipped with a very satisfactory stoker. In one test with leaking flues and pulling a heavy train she made schedule time and reached her destination with a full head of steam. The stoking, it is said, will not dispense with firemen, as they will be needed in oiling up, and assisting the engineer generally, but it will do away with the hardest part of the labor. The stoker is worked by a small engine supplied with steam from the locomotive boiler.

Potato Penwipers.

A certain New York hotel uses a bushel of potatoes a year for penwipers on the tables in the writing rooms. Every morning a large potato is put in a compartment of the pen box, and, after 24 hours, the potato is removed and another put in. Pens in penholders are stuck into the potato half a dozen at a time, giving it the appearance of a porcupine. It is claimed that a potato penwiper is the best preservative against rust and mildew that can be secured for the pens.

Importance of Our Hens.

It is estimated that the production of chickens in the United States last year reached 3,350,000,000 and of eggs 13,000,000,000. The total value of chickens and eggs was $290,000,000.

The true importance of the poultry business will, however, be better appreciated by the following comparisons:

Our annual wool clip is about $28,000,000,000; sheep, $65,000,000; swine, $180,000,000; cotton, $250,000,000; wheat, $237,000,000; tobacco, $45,000,000; potatoes, $80,000,000; barley, $30,000,000; oats, $200,000,000.

These figures show the importance of the poultry industry. There are annually $3,000,000 sent out of this state to purchase eggs and poultry, money which never returns to our merchants or agriculturists, and in the cities it is becoming a serious question to get fresh eggs in winter for the sick.

It does seem that with chickens selling for 30 and 35 cents that raising poultry would pay better than producing wheat at 60 cents a bushel.

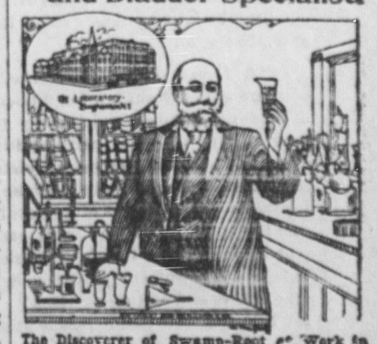
Famous Horse.

Street Commissioner George Geigley, of New Holland, Pa., owns what he claims to be the oldest horse in the state, if not in the country. According to Geigley's reckoning the animal is forty-two years old. It was formerly the property of Andrew G. Curtin, Pennsylvania's War Governor, and in honor of that fact the horse has been named "Andy Curtin." The animal is in remarkably good condition, considering its great age, and under Geigley's careful attention old "Andy" promises to add several more years to his existence. "Andy" is a veteran of the civil war, participating in many hard campaigns, but he came through them all without a scratch.

The Eminent Kidney and Bladder Specialist.



The Discoverer of Swamp-Root at Work in His Laboratory.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen—leaks out and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the new discovery is the true specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, after all other efforts have failed. At druggists in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. A sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling about Swamp-Root and its wonderful cures. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. and mention this paper.

STEREOPTICON ENTERTAINMENT.

Held in the Court House Monday Evening by the Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army workers drew an audience of about four hundred people to the Court House Monday evening to witness their stereopticon entertainment and lecture. To those present it proved a most interesting and rare treat, for very few have any idea of the wonderful work that has been accomplished by this organization in its short existence of thirty-five years.

Brigadier W. A. McIntyre, of Buffalo, N. Y., gave a two hours' lecture describing the several hundred views which he exhibited illustrating the work of the Army, the farm colony work, shelter homes for men, homes for dunken women, rescue homes for fallen women, children's homes, all of which are kept up by the Salvation Army in the larger cities. The private life of the Army officers was shown and described in an entertaining manner. Many people present had mistaken ideas of the Salvation Army and the entertainment proved a source of enlightenment to them. Besides this Brigadier McIntyre is an excellent talker and held the attention and kept his audience interested from start to finish.

Interspersed with the views shown there was singing by the brigade led by Staff Captain MacKenzie, who has a voice of unusual volume and sweetness.

There will be meetings every evening in the week in the hall on the third floor of the Centre County Bank building at 8 o'clock to which the public is invited. They will be in charge of Ensign McIntire.

Death of Mrs. Adam Thomas.

Mrs. Adam Thomas, formerly of State College, but late of Cross Forks, Potter county, Pa., died at her home in that place Saturday of cancer. She was aged 51 years 5 months and 20 days. DEATH OF MISS JANE HARRIS.

Passed Away Wednesday Morning at the Home of Her Brother.

Miss Jane Harris died Wednesday morning at 2:30 o'clock at the home of her brother, James Harris, on North Spring street. Death was the result of a stroke of paralysis which she sustained about ten days ago.

Deceased belonged to one of our leading families, her ancestors being among the earlier settlers of the town, and she was well and favorably known to all. She was the daughter of the late William Harris and was born near Bellefonte in May 1826. She was an earnest and exemplary christian and had been a consistent member of the Presbyterian church for about sixty years.

Two brothers survive her namely, James Harris and Dr. George F. Harris, both of Bellefonte.

The funeral will take place Friday the 15th at 2 p. m., from the Presbyterian church, Dr. William Laurie will officiate. Interment in the Union cemetery.

Academy Meets Its Waterloo.

One of the most exciting games of the season, was played on Saturday afternoon at the Fair grounds when the boys from the school upon the hill were defeated in a warmly contested game of football, by the Dickinson Seminary team of Williamsport by the score of 15 to 5. They out classed our boys in weight, and that counts a good bit in football, but when it come to bucking the line our boys could always hold their own. The line up:

Dickinson Sem—15	Pos.	Academy—5
Cramer Capt.	left end	Hoy J Mahaffey
Drake	left tackle	Killen
Andrus	left guard	G McGee
Farrington	centre	McCandless
Woodward	right guard	J. McGee Capt
Brown	right tackle	Kerr Ferguson
Skeith	right end	D Mahaffey
Grove	quarter	Carson
Pierce	right half	J Taylor
Ames	left half	J Twitmyre
English	full back	H Taylor

Touchdowns. Ames. Cramer, Andrus, G McGee, Referee, and Umpire Alberts and Slate. Timekeepers, Captain Taylor and Hoey Linesman Fortney and Norcross. Time of halves 20 and 15 minutes.

A Serious Accident.

A jolly crowd of boys were out on Hallow'een night, and among them was Linn Blackford, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Blackford and a brother of Clyde Blackford, the popular restaurant keeper of Bishop street, and as the evenings fun was drawing to a close and the boys separating and going to their several homes, one of them in a playful manner struck Linn on the leg with a stick, which unbeknown to the young man had a rusty nail in the end of it. It pierced the right leg at the right side of the knee joint. Linn did not notice it much at the time and went to his work the next morning, where he is employed as a clerk in Joseph Bros. & Co. Dry Good Store. During the day his leg began to swell and pain him so that he was compelled to go home and go to bed. Several places above the knee sores have broken out, and it is feared blood poisoning has set in. An operation was performed Wednesday and it is hoped it will be a success.

"A Cavalier of France" was Excellent.

A large audience gathered at the Garman opera house Monday night to witness Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Spencer and the rest of the cast in the beautiful romantic play "A Cavalier of France." Everyone handled his and her parts to perfection and the play all through was very well represented.

Mr. Spencer, as Rene de Froisac, a Cavalier of France, and Mrs. Spencer, as Gabrielle du Bois, a lady of France, were a perfect success. The play was equipped with beautiful and costly scenery, while that period of history with which it dealt admitted the most picturesque costuming. We will always extend to Mr. and Mrs. Spencer a hearty welcome to our town.

Hand Lacerated.

Mr. Theodore Cherry, an engineer on the Lewisburg, and Tyrone division met with a painful accident recently. He and his fireman were taking their engine to the Sunbury shops, where in some manner the reverse lever flew back striking Mr. Cherry in the palm of his left hand cutting a deep gash and otherwise bruising it. This is the first accident that has befell "Dory" in 27 years of railroading. Mr. Wm. Parks of Sunbury has charge of Cherry's run until the latter is able to go on duty again.

A Letter From Edward Schofield.

Hon. James Schofield recently received a letter from his son, Edward, who is a member of the 16th Regiment U. S. Regulars now doing duty in the Philippines. He is stationed at Alcala, P. I., and reports that he is in excellent health and spirits but is anxious to get back to the States and old Bellefonte once again. His time is now almost up and he expects to sail for home on the 17th of January 1902.

He is having quite an experience over there and says that recently he was up the Cogaya river to Echaguie on a general Court martial, a distance of 200 miles and the scenery he describes as something fine. He was on the case of Logans the insurgent leader that he helped to trap sometime ago. It is expected that the insurgent leader will get a sentence of at least 15 years.

Death of Thomas Smith.

Thomas Smith, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of Liberty township, died at his home a mile north of Blanchard Saturday morning, from obstruction of the bowels. He was aged 82 years, 5 months and 12 days. For sixty years he was a faithful and consistent member of the Methodist church. The funeral took place at 10 o'clock Monday morning, services being held in the Disciple church and the sermon preached by Rev. M. C. Frick. The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers: Daniel D. Kunes, Daniel Robb, Christ Robb, Alfred Bitner, James Wilson and Samuel Spangler. Interment was made in the Disciple graveyard.

Vaccinated Herself.
